

Mentor application form

Criteria for mentors (senior lawyers seeking a junior lawyer to act as second chair)

- In good standing with the LSUC
- Member in good standing with the courts or administrative panels in front of whom they appear
- No history of discipline or substantiated complaints by LSUC or LAO
- Experience and expertise in the particular area of law at issue
- A history of mentoring junior counsel or leading continuing legal education opportunities in their legal area of expertise
- Active panel member with a consistent case load, a well-developed legal aid practice, good administrative history with LAO, and a reputation for high quality services
- While membership in specialized panels such as those for Extremely Serious Matters, Complex Case Rates and Gladue matters are relevant, they may not be the determining factor in an additional second chair authorization
- Women and members of other minority groups may receive particular consideration

Case criteria for second chair opportunities

Cases suitable for the Second Chair program should include features that would allow a mentee to learn and develop, through “hands-on experience” the skills necessary to act as counsel on such cases in the future. Such features include:

- legal issues currently underserved by legal aid (such as child protection law)
- issues relevant to particular vulnerable client groups (such as Aboriginal clients and clients with mental health issues)
- the number and kind of required pre-trial motions
- novel legal questions
- complicated factual scenario(s)
- the need to handle expert evidence
- heightened need for strategic judgment
- opportunities for meaningful cross-examination
- involvement of a high-needs client with mental health issues
- high profile elements
- large amount of material for review to prepare for a proceeding
- an appeal or judicial review of a judgment

The above list does not preclude, in appropriate circumstances, authorizations through the program for short trials or hearings that are not overly complex or challenging but would provide mentees with valuable learning experiences.
